

Los Angeles Aging Advocacy Coalition

At a Glance

The Los Angeles Aging Advocacy Coalition (LAAAC) was established in December 2009 and quickly filled a void at the local level for a unified entity organized to advocate on behalf of the aging community. LAAAC's mission is to preserve, protect, and strengthen access to quality care for older persons, their families, and caregivers in Los Angeles County. LAAAC's 45 member organizations aim to strategically inform, educate, and engage elected and appointed officials, as well as other key stakeholders regarding the issues impacting the aging community in Los Angeles. LAAAC focuses on educating and advocating on issues affecting older adults and their caregivers as well as engaging in the planning, designing, and implementation of service delivery and coordination models. Additionally, LAAAC offers educationally enriched opportunities for members and the community while also providing a forum to promote professional networking.
