

Inland Empire Long-Term Services and Supports Coalition

At a Glance

Formed in 2008, the Inland Empire Long-Term Services and Supports (LTSS) Coalition brings together the expertise of critical pathway providers, community-based organizations, public officials, and consumers to implement strategies that improve LTSS. The Coalition's mission is to facilitate systems change across networks, programs, databases, and funding. This will improve efficiency in service referrals and leverage staff, materials, and service resources. The primary focus for 2018 is to identify local legislative candidates running for an office to help educate and build LTSS champions. The Inland Empire LTSS Coalition will focus on participating in statewide webinars and attend an Advocacy Day training in the state capital. In addition, the Coalition will focus on conducting two forums, each with local community decision-makers.
